

59

EVAPORITIC KARST AND CAVES OF NORTHERN APENNINES

Karst is a natural phenomenon that happens when rainwater seeps into limestone ground, creating cavities, caves, and spectacular formations. In the northern Apennines, you can see these natural wonders, like stalactites and stalagmites, which formed over thousands of years.

DRAW TWO EXPLORERS
IN A CAVE!

unesco

Patrimonio Mondiale in Italia

QUIZ